	10116	American	A-2501	6402
	10117	American	A-2502	6403					In the upper left is the title of this sheet, FLXIBLE 1955-1969. We are mostly concerned with 1955, 1956 and 1960 but all of Fixible's modern coach production is listed here for completeness.
	10118	American	A-2503	6404
	10119	Western	W-951	4401					Going across left to right we come to Frame #, which is the same as the Chassis # or the VIN these days. Next is the original owner's name.

	10121	Western	W-953	4403
	10122	Western	W-954	4404					After that you'll see columns 1 st Fleet # to 6 th Fleet #. This is the operator's internal number. It is used to keep track of expenses such as fuel and maintenance. This was the number that particular bus wore when it entered service. In a number of cases we do not have this information and this is shown with Unkn (Unknown).

	10125	Western	W-957	4407
	10126	Western	W-958	4408					Fleet Numbers 2 to 6 only pertain to Trailways coaches. Up to 1957 the various divisions of Continental Trailways mostly used a letter prefix to tell the divisions apart. The divisions were free to use whatever numbering they liked, usually what they used before Continental bought them. During 1957 a new system was devised. It showed who owned the bus, what kind of bus it was and its specific operator number. This system had four digits and you'll see these numbers in the 2 nd Fleet Number column.

	10146	Continental Bus System	352	401	1401	4419	1401		Sometimes Continental moved buses around from one division to another. This may have been to adjust for seasonal traffic variations or changed market conditions. Another reason for this was if a bus from one division had an accident in the territory of another division, the using division had to provide a replacement to make up for the loss of use by the owning division. When this happened, the coach was given a new number when it was transferred. If the coach later returned to its home division, it got its original number back.

									Sadly, the VL-100 had a severe weakness. With 10192	Western	W-964	4414					Only 170 HP it was quite underpowered. Having five speed transmission helped but it didn't solve the problem of having 41 less horsepower than a GMC PD 4104. Worse yet, the main engine also powered the air conditioning, which further reduced performance. If that weren't enough, having to drive it at full throttle all the time did nothing to improve it's fuel economy.

	10202	Central	C-1643	3413					Continental was able to repower their fleet of 113 VL-100's with Detroit Diesel 6-71 engines and that almost solved the problem but it was an extra expense brought about by the Cummins JT-600 engine that wasn't up to the job of adequately powering the coach even with a turbocharger.

	10230	American	A-2614	6430					It was a similar situation with the Hi-Level. Trailways carriers took 75 of the 93 built in 1960. That was the last order that Trailways placed with Fixible as Eagle production had ramped up to the point that Continental bought exclusively Eagles from then on. That's another story and we'll be dealing with it starting in 2015.
